NEWS OF STEELSBURG.

Steelesburg, April 5.—Rev. F. H. Burman filled his regular appointment here last Sunday.

The good road forces are making good use of the pretty weather laying stone and it is to be hoped that our road can reach through as it is needed worse than any road in the county.

Miss Kate Peery, of Liberty Hill, returned to her home Sunday after spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Harvey Noel, here.

Misses Mildred and Helen McGuire, of Cedar Bluff, and Hazel Martin, of Bluefield, spent last Wednesday evening with their aunt, Mrs. R. B. Steele.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Peery were the guests of Mrs. O. M. Ferrell on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John DeBord visited the Camp Sunday evening.

Mrs. John Jackson and daughter, Miss Pearl, visited relatives at Cleveland last week, returning Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Griffith were shopping in Richlands last Saturday.

John Peery, of Liberty Hill, made his usual visit here Sunday.

Little Miss Mildred and Francis Witt, daughters of Mrs. Hugh Witt, of Paint Lick, spent last week with their aunt, Mrs. R. B. Steele.

POCAHONTAS PICKINGS.

People Sorry to Lose H. M. Umberger From The Town.

Pocahontas, Va., April 6.—Although it is only a little over two months until the town election for officers, little is said about it, and no one appears to be especially anxious to be considered as a candidate for the offices. Perhaps interest will increase as the time approaches.

Miss Estelle Price, fifth grade teacher at the school has been kept in with diphtheria and Mrs. C. S. Minter is substituting for her.

All the town people are sorry of the resignation of Heber M. Umberger as assistant cashier of the Bank of Pocahontas, who will move with his family to the town of Concord, N. C., where he expects to engage with his brother in business. Mr. Umberger is a popular man and Pocahontas people regret much to lose him and his family, but he believes that a wider opportunity is open to him in his new line of business. They will move as soon as arrangements can be made after his successor has been appointed.

There are evidently some good pedestrians in West Virginia. Three men actually walked 84 miles to Pocahontas and back to get a supply of liquor, and it is said they walked back the same distance with two gallons each. It took them two days to make the trip here on foot, but it is very likely that more time was required on the return trip.

George J. Cunningham, the Boissavane merchant, was in Pocahontas this week on business.

We have been wondering who the Colonel Dodd is who is leading the chase in pursuit of Villa in Mexico. He is an uncle of George and Herb Dodd, both of whom are known to Pocahontas, and the former being a citizen of Graham, and employed at the Boyd Department store. At least this is the information that is given to us from reliable source, and we believe it is true. Years ago there was a superintendent of the Pocahontas Collieries Company here named Dodds, and the name being spelled differently would indicate that he is a different man, but we are inclined to believe that Col. George Dodd, of the Mexico notoriety, is related to the Tazewell Dodd family.

Pocahontas high school will have three representatives at Graham on Friday night, viz: Abram Lubliner, Harry Macom and John Newton, Jr. The last two are debaters. The school here will clash with Graham high school in debate, as reported in the papers. Abraham Lubliner will be pitted against one of the Graham boys in a reading contest. Several pupils teachers and relatives will accompany the boys to see the fun.

THE WEEK'S HAPPENINGS AT POUNDING MILL.

Pounding Mill, April 5.—School at this place, which has been taught an extra month by Miss Bessie Sayers, of Pulaski, closed today with a good program. The children did well, and reflected much credit on the teacher. Quite a number of patrons and others were present, and enjoyed the exercises very much. Miss Sayers will probably return next year. The patrons are very much pleased with her teaching.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Gillespie attended the birthday anniversary of the latter's mother, Mrs. Mary O'Keefe at Tazewell on last Sunday evening and enjoyed the day very much. Mrs. O'Keefe spent Thursday night visiting her daughter.

Mr. J. T. Altizer is confined to his home with a very severe sore throat. His sister, Miss Mary Belle Altizer, came up from Richlands this morning to look after the postoffice and store.

Mrs. W. B. Steele and daughter, Mrs. John B. Gillespie, visited her mother, Mrs. Jane A. McGuire at Cedar Bluff last Friday.

Miss Drinkard, of Tazewell, who helped nurse Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Trayer's little daughter, returned to her home Sunday night. The child has almost recovered and Mr. Trayer has resumed his position as operator for the N. & W.

Mrs. John Witt and baby did not move here last week, as she expected. She has been very ill at the home of her father in law, Mr. Riburn Witt. It was feared at first she was taking typhoid fever. Mr. Witt went over and spent Saturday night and Sunday.

Miss Marie Maxwell left last Saturday to visit friends in Roanoke and Salem. Her father, R. K. Maxwell, accompanied her.

Mrs. Massey, of Shipman, is visiting her nephew, Mr. R. A. Craig. Miss Margaret Thompson, Mrs. Craig's sister, has returned home.

The croquet club enjoyed a most pleasant afternoon on last Thursday with Mrs. H. W. Christian and her daughter, Miss Gussie. There were about sixteen ladies present. On tomorrow from 2 to 5 Mrs. John B. Gillespie will entertain the club at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Steele.

Pat Newman, who was killed Saturday night by a train, while alighting from same, is a brother of Dora Newman, who is being reared by Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Steele, of this town. He is a grandson of Mrs. Mollie Thompson, on Little Creek, in Burke's Garden. Four of the children were sent to the Little home in Bluefield. Three were gotten good homes in the middle part of the State and one, a girl, of thirteen, sent to a school for the blind, and is being given a musical education in connection with the literary work. Jas. G. Litz, of the Little Home, had her eyes operated on one being removed, and the other in a measure the sight of the other eye. Last summer, during the vacation, she was put in an industrial school.

Mrs. Julia Williams went to Richlands this afternoon.

Clarence Hankins was here this m. in his car from Richlands, in place of traveling salesman James Fox, who is at home nursing his little daughter, Margaret, 5 years old, who has been desperately ill for over a week with pneumonia and typhoid, and probably a touch of spinal meningitis. She has regained consciousness, but has little or no use of her hands. Much sympathy goes out to the bereaved parents. They lost two children a few years ago with meningitis. Mrs. T. A. Repass, sr., of Cedar Bluff, Mrs. Fox's mother, is with her.

U. D. C. ECHOES.

Tazewell's "400" were there, and they "looked fine," as one guest expresses it. When the women of this town undertake to do things up, depending upon it they will do things up, and according to the Queen's taste.

Large Delegation of Women In Conference Here—Reception At Elegant Home of Senator and Mrs. St. Clair.

The visiting U. D. C. ladies made a most favorable impression and a fine appearance. The thanks of the town are due Miss Tynes, the President of the local chapter here, for giving the town an opportunity and privilege of entertaining and becoming acquainted with this splendid body of Virginia women.

Mrs. O'Brien said, "Just wait until September and we will show you a crowd of women sure enough." She referred to the meeting in annual conference of the State W. C. F. U., when 200 delegates are expected. One party said, "Great Scott! what will we do with all those women?" They will be taken care of all right. No need to worry.

As to the costumes—expect no description in these columns. The reporter is wise enough not to attempt the impossible. He has small interest here, and can't well get away. It is safe, however, to venture the remark, that all the ladies were elegantly and becomingly gowned, as became the wives, daughters and the grand-daughters and descendants of Virginians.

Col. W. G. O'Brien, editor the Republican, our distinguished contemporary, was becomingly "gowned" in his new watch chain, which the ministers gave him some time ago, and disguised himself completely by wearing a long-tail coat. But most of us recognized him, notwithstanding.

A small incident of an amusing character, "an ice breaker," occurred, when Mrs. Randolph, in speaking to the editor of the Clinch Valley News, addressed him as "Mr. St. Clair," the honored host and Confederate Veteran, and proud of it. Discovering the mistake apologies followed (to Mr. St. Clair), and the incident was declared closed.

Many of the delegates held some office in their local chapters—Presidents, Vice-Presidents, Secretary, or Treasurer or something else, and a number of them claimed only the honor of being "just plain delegates."

There is power and suggestion in a name, sometimes. One of these is that of Mrs. C. W. Sumter, of Christiansburg. What more appropriate name for a Daughter of the Confederacy? Some one called her "Mrs. Fort Sumter," and suggested that she is fully able to "hold the fort" under all circumstances.

The Norfolk & Western Railway.

The Norfolk & Western Railway, was well represented in the persons of the wives of Captain Moran and Captain John Wall, well known conductors on passenger trains in this section. These ladies were representatives of the East Radford Chapter, Capt. John Wall is brother to James Wall, the well known painter in this town.

An interesting visitor here was Mrs. Randolph, widow of the late Norman V. Randolph, for many years one of Richmond's most prominent and patriotic citizens. He devoted much of his time and money to the betterment of the conditions of the old soldiers of the State. It is said that it was largely through his influence and exertions that the old Soldier's Home in Richmond was established. And, now, his widow is devoting herself unselfishly and untiringly to the care of the widows of the old soldiers. She is, in addition, to her work as President of the Richmond Chapter of the U. D. C., chairman of the relief committee of the chapter. No longer young in years, Mrs. Randolph is as young in feeling, hope and energy as the youngest of them. This was her first visit to Tazewell and her appreciation of the beauties and wealth of this section she said, "Cannot be expressed in words."

PROF. GILBERT IN THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH SUNDAY.

On next Sunday at the morning hour, W. E. Gilbert, of the faculty of the Radford Normal School, will address the congregation at the Christian church. Professor Gilbert is an interesting speaker, and to both mature and youthful minds, he will present vital truth. We give a most hearty invitation to those who have not other obligations to come and hear him.

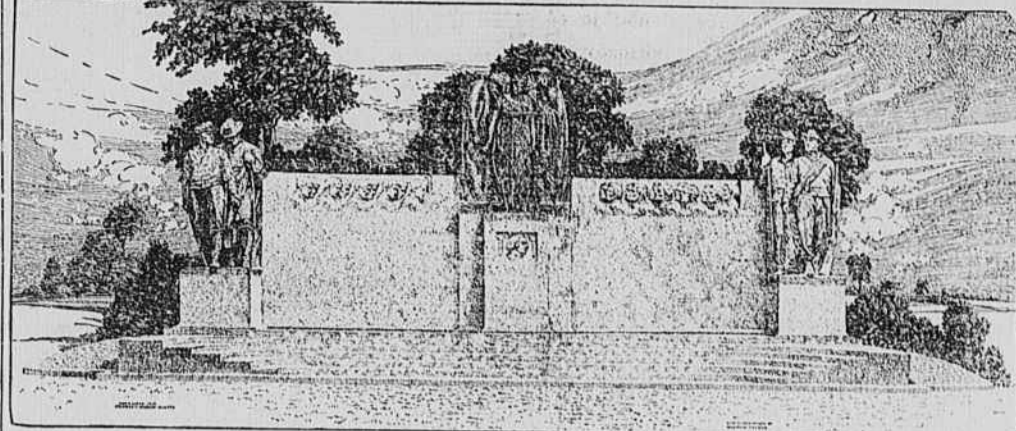

On account of the auditor's failure to get out the new pension blanks, the board will not meet on April 14, as advertised. Notice will be given later.

SOUTHWEST VIRGINIA CHAPTERS, UNITED DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY MEET HERE IN ANNUAL SESSION

Proposed Monument to be erected on the Battle Field of Shiloh, Tennessee, in honor of the Southern Soldiers, who fell there. The monument will be erected by the women of the South at a cost of $50,000, and will be completed by October 1, 1916.

U. D. C. ECHOES.

Tazewell's "400" were there, and they "looked fine," as one guest expresses it. When the women of this town undertake to do things up, depending upon it they will do things up, and according to the Queen's taste.

Large Delegation of Women In Conference Here—Reception At Elegant Home of Senator and Mrs. St. Clair.

The meeting of the Division Chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy of Southwest Virginia opened here on Tuesday morning in the High School chapel, following the reception given on Monday evening, an account of which appears elsewhere in this paper.

The morning session was opened by Miss Lydie Tynes, President of the Tazewell Chapter, and Mrs. C. W. Sumter, of Christiansburg, presided during the day.

The day was taken up largely by reports from the different chapters, offered by delegates present.

This division, as we understand, includes the territory west of and including Roanoke. A few of the chapters only, were not represented.

In addition to the reports and general routine business, there were a number of addresses from visiting daughters. Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, of Richmond, President of the Richmond chapter, made a touching appeal for help from all the Chapters, for the Confederate women of the State, widows of old soldiers, a cause to which she is devoting her untiring energies. She has been for a number of years a familiar figure before the Legislature and Senate, pleading for appropriations for these helpless old women of the State.

An interesting statement was made by Mrs. Merchant, representing the Shiloh Monument Association. A cut of this monument is found on the first page of this paper. Mrs. Merchant stated that there were more than 100 federal monuments erected in memory and honor of the union soldiers who fell in the notable and bloody battle of Shiloh on the plain of Tennessee, April, 1862, and only two or three cheap monuments erected to the memory of the Confederate soldiers who fell and were buried there. The women of the South, in the year 1905, formed the Shiloh monument association, their object being to erect a monument there to cost $50,000 and discharge a long-neglected duty and service. Of this amount $36,000 has been raised, and the remaining $14,000 must be secured by October 1st next. Mrs. Merchant is treasurer of the Association and is making her touching and stirring appeal to the women of the South. She makes a strong and stirring speech.

The Evening Session.

The High School Chapel was filled to the doors on Tuesday evening with a representative audience. The large stage was tastefully and appropriately decorated with ferns and potted plants, Confederate flags. Large portraits of President Jefferson Davis and General Robert E. Lee hung upon the wall, and looked down upon the scene, and were a source of inspiration to the speakers.

Mrs. Geo. W. St. Clair presided with marvelous dignity and grace during the evening session. On the platform were seated, Miss Lydie Tynes, President of the Tazewell Chapter; Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, of Richmond; Mrs. Judge A. A. Campbell, of Wytheville; Mrs. Merchant of Chatham; Mrs. Sumter, of Christiansburg.

The evening program consisted of songs, vocal and instrumental; addresses by home people, papers read and an address by Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Merchant and Mrs. Randolph.

The first number was a song by 20 pretty school girls.

Miss Ella Bowen, of Tazewell, read a paper, in which the lives and deeds of Tazewell soldiers was vividly recited. Then followed a solo by Mrs. A. S. Higginbotham. Mrs. Merchant, Treasurer of the Shiloh Monument Association, read a paper which was highly entertaining.

Mrs. Barnes Gillespie read a selection from the Confederate Veteran, contributed some years ago by the late Capt. A. J. Tynes.

Mrs. Judge Campbell discarding her manuscript, told graphically of General Toland's raid into Wytheville in July, 1863, and of his being killed in Wytheville, the burning of the town and the rout caused by an attack of Confederate troops, and many other interesting facts about her great county, when Fincastle county included all that territory. This address was followed by a violin duet by Miss Louise Witten and Miss Hall, young pupils of Miss Blanche Hurley's class.

Of much interest was an address by Mr. L. A. Tynes, on General Lee, the immortal hero of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Randolph again made a plea for the widows of the Confederacy, and also spoke of the Confederate Museum in Richmond and urged all who may have relics of the war of any and all kinds to send them to the museum for preservation.

Mrs. Sumter made a short address in the close. A timid and modest little woman, whose name the reporter failed to catch voiced the thanks of the lady visitors and delegates for the great and unbounded hospitality they had enjoyed.

Messrs. H. S. Surface, Conrad F. Tynes, Misses Stevens and Lester

"made the hit" of the evening, it was said, by singing, "Carry Me Back to Ole Virginny," and "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground." Also, Mrs. J. G. Bustin, Mrs. H. C. Post, Mrs. Roy S. Thompson, Mrs. Barnes Gillespie, Misses Lester and Tynes, contributed much to the evening's entertainment by the singing.

Flag Presentation.

A most pleasing incident occurred when Mrs. Sumter came forward, and in a few well chosen words, presented to the chapter here a large silk flag of Virginia, a gift from the visiting chapters. The flag was gracefully accepted by Miss Tynes, on behalf of the Tazewell Chapter. While the flag was being waved from the platform by two ladies a choir struck up that old song, Dixie, which never fails to stir and enthrall a Southern audience, and the entire crowd joined in the chorus, changing to "I'm Glad I Live in Dixie," after which good-byes were said, and this memorable meeting became a bright and pleasant page in Tazewell's history. The town has not had heretofore the pleasure of entertaining more charming or appreciative women, whose stay among us was all too brief.

RECEPTION AT HOME OF MR. AND MRS. ST. CLAIR

The reception given in honor of the visiting ladies, members of the U. D. C. of Southwest Virginia, on Monday evening, was one of the most brilliant functions witnessed in Tazewell for a long time.

The reception was held in the spacious and elegant home of Senator and Mrs. Alexander St. Clair, extended by the local chapter here, in honor of their distinguished sisters and guests of the U. D. C. Chapters of this territory. Miss Lydie Tynes, President of the late Capt. A. J. Tynes, is President of the local chapter here, and the function of Monday evening reflects credit upon her and her co-workers. It was a successful and an exceedingly pleasant affair from the beginning. Everybody was in the best of spirits (and clothes) and everybody was made to feel perfectly at home and free. A number of the lady guests expressed themselves as "perfectly charmed" by the reception given in their honor and the compliment paid them by the occasion.

The Distinguished Visitors.

The reporter did his best to secure the names and addresses of all the ladies, but fears that he may have failed to get all of them.

The following list is practically correct:

Miss Nellie Preston, President of the State organization. Her home is at Seven Mile Ford.

Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, President of Richmond Chapter, Richmond, Va., and chairman of the State Relief Committee of the U. D. C.

Delightful solos were rendered by Mrs. Roy Thompson, of Bluefield, and Miss Nellie Peery, of Tazewell for the entertainment of the company. These solos were highly complimented and freely applauded. Refreshments were served and everything was pleasant. Everybody got acquainted with everybody whom they didn't previously know, and better acquainted with those whom they already knew. Mrs. and Mrs. St. Clair were more than pleased by the presence of so many fine women in their home, spacious as are the rooms there was no crowding or inconvenience, and Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair have the thank of every one present.

THE ROCKY DELL SCHOOL.

(Communicated.)

The Rocky Dell School taught by Miss Elizabeth Hancock closed March 23. The students who were present at the closing were and when the time came for the parting, for they loved their teacher. The teacher had a difficult time teaching them, having an attendance of from sixty to sixty-five, and underwent many privations in the cold weather to keep the small children warm. The larger number of her patrons certainly did appreciate her kindness. She is a Christian lady and will be missed at Sunday School, where she taught a large class of boys and also at church and other religious meetings. The family of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bourne will greatly miss her, she having made herself as one of the family, and rendered indispensable service in the sick room. All hope that she will return to this community again next season, but if she does not return we pray that he r surroundings may be pleasant. When she left she said she was afraid she would be unable to find another boarding house that seemed so much like home to her.

J. N. HARMAN, JR. COMING TO FRONT

Young Tazewell Lawyer, Now Living at Welch, Is Boomed For Commonwealth's Attorney of McDowell County.

J. N. Harman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Harman, of this city, who has been practicing law at Welch for the past two years, is being urged to offer himself for the office of prosecuting attorney of McDowell county.

The following dispatch was sent out from Welch Tuesday, and appeared in the Daily papers:

"Political activity in this county rivals the closing days of some campaigns, and there is no day that does not have its important occurrence in a political way. Today a movement was started, having for its object the bringing out of a new candidate for the Republican nomination for prosecuting attorney. The candidates now are F. C. Cook, G. L. Counts and Samuel Solinas. Friends of the county, viz: J. N. Harman, Jr., today began urging him to enter the race, and it is hoped that he will consent to become a candidate, in which event it is believed that he can be nominated by a good majority. Mr. Harman is a young man who has been practicing law in the county for a number of years. He is a member of the well known firm of Litz & Harman, and has made a record as an able young lawyer, and has a host of friends, especially among the younger element of the county. He was spoken of as a candidate for state Senator, but his friends contend that he should consent to become a candidate for prosecuting attorney and in addition to making a good race he will make a good official."

Mr. Harman's many friends in this community, where he was born, are not surprised that the people of McDowell want him for Commonwealth's attorney, but wonder why they have neglected recognition of his ability as a lawyer and his clean, high-tone character as a man.

MISS KATHARINE CARNAHAN DEAD IN HOME IN UTAH

Well Known in Tazewell, Where Her Many Relatives Live.

The Ogden (Utah) Standard, in its issue of March 24th, announces the sad death of Miss Katharine Carnahan, well known here, and related to a number of Tazewell people.

She, with her mother, Mrs. Dr. J. D. Carnahan, visited Tazewell about two years ago, and none who met her thought it would be our last greeting.

Her death occurred on the night of the 23rd of March, at her home in Ogden, following an illness of three weeks duration. She was a prominent member of the Queen Esther Chapter of the Eastern Star of Ogden, the Childrens Society, and other benevolent organizations of her city. It was while engaged in work connected with the celebration of "Baby Week" that she contracted a severe tonsillitis, which resulted in her death. The Standard states that she was much "beloved by the mothers of the town and her fellow workers." Any one and every one who ever met, even casually, this good and young woman, can well believe that the above statement of the Standard is no exaggeration. Miss Katharine was the second cousin of John P. Gose, of Burke's Garden and C. H. Peery, of North Tazewell, and related, as is her mother, more or less closely to a number of Tazewell's best families. Her father, Dr. John Carnahan, died some five or six years ago. Her mother and brother, Dr. Thos. C. Carnahan, will no doubt find comfort in the fact, that they have the deepest sympathy of a large circle of friends and relatives here, where this sainted dead was so well beloved.
